Every Day, in Every Way

I can clearly see that every day, and in every way, God's kingdom is being made known. I see this as I am in regular communication with those we support who are providing relief to those affected by Typhoon Haiyan, sharing Jesus with the people of northern Thailand, and building relationships with students in Central Asia. The kingdom of God is being made known in all they do, whether they are giving food and relief, sharing from the Bible, or lending a helping hand or listening ear.

The Second Tunic is part of making it possible for those we support to devote themselves full-time to making the kingdom of God known. Thank you for your generous support and encouragement. Every day, and in every way, let us give thanks and praise to God for his goodness. 🍷

A Household Believes

Those Who Seek Will Find

by Alu One

We had been praying for our outreach to Ban Muang Na, located in northern Thailand. One person from our group had had a bad dream about that place, but we felt God was calling us to go. We did house-to-house visitation, Bible study, evangelism services and personal sharing. I could see how hungry they were for the gospel. When looking into their eyes I could see their emptiness and longing for love of Jesus Christ. One day as we were visiting homes sharing about Jesus the whole family, five in all, responded and believed in Jesus, as the one true way to God. Continued

Typhoon Haiyan

The Second Tunic Responds

“God has put to our heart to continue blessing our brethren who were devastated by super typhoon Haiyan.” Nelson Malaque

Two weeks after Typhoon Haiyan brought destruction to large portions of central Philippines, The Second Tunic-supported workers Nelson Malaque, Soriano Catulay, Jan Tampac, and Jermane Cabey assisted with the distribution of food and basic relief items.

On December 6, 2013, they took a 40' container of building materials and supplies. They are focusing their relief efforts in Dulag, a community of about 375 families. To begin the process of rebuilding, they will work alongside the families who have lost everything. Jan Tampac said, “This is beyond giving food, this is beyond relief distribution. This is ministering holistically, soul, spirit, and body.”

In response, The Second Tunic has released over $9,000 toward their efforts to assist this community, providing hope and housing. Our goal is to raise $35,000. They need our help! Join with us by giving to our Hope and Housing fund. Together we can share our “second tunic” with those who have lost all. ❤️

We were so thankful for the open door, and give God the glory for his amazing work! We see his faithfulness to his promise that those who seek will find.

I am from the Shan people group who are spread out in the countries surrounding northern Thailand. I was born and raised in a neighboring country and, as a young man, fled to Thailand to escape persecution. My wife Gigi is from the Philippines. The situation is slowly changing. Gigi and I are now able to lead teams of Shan believers from Thailand back to my own people. ❤️

I believe!

The Second Tunic is committed to supporting people who are reaching out to their own communities and people. We see this as a very effective way to minister. They know the local customs and language.

Alu and Gigi One and their son Karsten David live in northern Thailand and serve with Youth With A Mission (YWAM), Chiang Mai. They are involved in outreach to the Shan people living in Thailand and surrounding countries. They are supported by The Second Tunic.
